Details

The military-inspired Deploy 1300 Compact Sleeping Bag from Caribee is designed to be a compact option for you're on fast and light missions.

The micro 3ED power loft fill and contoured design will provide you with enough warmth for all your outdoor operations even at zero degrees, and the durable nylon outer will survive all your rugged outdoor adventures. You won't feel like a mummy trapped in a sarcophagus as despite the compact design, the Deploy 1300 has a roomy box foot design to give you that extra room to move in your bag so you can snooze comfortably. With internal security pockets, you won't roll over in the middle of the night and embed your phone or torch into your ribs, as you can keep your essentials safe and out of the way.

Housed in a heavy-duty compression stuff sack with lashing points, your bag will be protected from the elements and will enable you to condense your bag down for easy transport. The Deploy 1300 from Caribee is ideal for when you're low on space, and you need a bag that'll be able to keep you warm and comfortable on all kinds of expeditions.
