

Thermarest Z-Seat Coyote

$24.90

Details

If your behind has seen enough sodden logs and prickly ground when you're out hiking, then the Therm-a-Rest Z-Seat Pad is going to keep you dry, comfortable and debris free when you need to relax on the trail.

Made from extremely lightweight closed-cell foam and featuring an accordion-style design - you can slot the Z seat easily into your pack without it weighing you down. This seat will also lie flat so it's going not going to curl up on you while you're trying to use it. If it gets dirty, cleaning is as easy as wiping it down, and it'll be right as rain again.

Best of all in cold weather, it'll give you a buffer between your derriere and the icy cold ground to make those frosty early starts around the campsite a bit more bearable. Instead of trying to pick between a muddy patch of ground or a wet rock - pick up a Therm-a-Rest Z-Seat Pad for comfort when you're travelling light.

Compact and lightweight
Durable closed-cell foam
Accordion-style design Lies flat and resists curling
