Details

If you're always fumbling for the lock on the front door or blundering around in the dark looking for something you've dropped - the Lighthouse Micro Lantern is small enough to fit on your keychain - so you'll never be without light when you need it most.

You can charge the Lighthouse Micro two ways: through a compatible separate Goal Zero Nomad Solar Panel, or through a USB power source. The weatherproof design will provide you with 150 lumens of light and is also dimmable so you can get the perfect amount of illumination for your chosen task.

If you're constantly looking for ways to minimize weight and space in your pack, or you need a small portable lantern to keep on your keychain - then the Lighthouse Micro is just perfect.

Can be attached to a keychain
Recharge by USB, or compatible Goal Zero Nomad Solar Panel.
