Details

Hardwearing and supportive, the Hi-Tec Altitude VI WP Women's Hiking Boot can take on the trail with ease.

The I-shield hydrophobic technology in addition to the waterproof full grain leather upper ensures every measure has been taken to repel water and dirt. You can easily get a secure fit on the lacing system, and it has rustproof hardware for longevity. This boot has a Dri-Tec breathable, waterproof membrane to keep out water, and a micro-fleece lining to wick away moisture for comfort.

The CMEVA midsole excels in absorbing shock and the OrthoLite sockliner provides cushioning for all-day comfort. Underfoot, the Altitude VI WP hiking boot has a rigid nylon shank with a Michelin multi-directional traction rugged rubber outsole to deliver exceptional traction on all terrains. Rugged, without weighing you down - the Altitude VI I Boot from Hi-Tec delivers grip on the trail.
