Details

When you desperately need your thirst quenched on a warm day, the Chute Mag Vacuum Insulated Bottle from Camelbak will keep your beverage chilled and ready to drink. The 18/8 stainless steel double wall design prevents condensation, and the vacuum insulation will keep your favourite drink cold for 24 hours and hot for 6 hours. This bottle has a narrow-angled spout so you can drink with minimal spillage and a magnetic cap that snaps into the handle to keep it out of your face. You never have to stress about losing the cap while you're out and about as it's also tethered to the handle to keep it secure. The wide opening ensures you can give it a thorough clean and it also makes it easy to add ice cubes to cool down your drink. The Chute Vacuum Insulated Bottle is also 100% free of BPA and BPS for your peace of mind. Keep cool and hydrated while you're on the road, at work, or at the gym with the Chute Vacuum Insulated Bottle from Camelbak. Vacuum insulation keeps beverages cold for 24 hours and hot for 6 hours Double wall design prevents condensation on the sides of the bottle Ergonomic angled spout for easy drinking without spillage Magnetic tethered cap snaps into the handle Top rack dishwasher safe Wide mouth opening to make it easy to fill with ice and to clean BPA and BPS free
