Details

Equip yourself for your next adventure by housing your gear in the reliable Jet Pack 75L from Caribee. This travel pack has a detachable daypack which you just zip off to take sightseeing, while you can store the majority of your gear in the main pack which has an internal divider for organisation. The back system features an aluminium frame for support and the harness system is fully adjustable with a hip belt, sternum strap and padded lumbar support. When you're not wearing the harness, just zip the cover over it when you're in transit for protection and the zips are lockable for your peace of mind. You can compress your gear externally or internally, lash your sleeping bag or other items thanks to the base QR webbing straps, and pull over the concealable rain cover if you encounter a drizzle. The Jet Pack 75L from Caribee has all the features you need to comfortably haul your gear on your upcoming expeditions. Detachable zip off multi-functional daypack Adjustable harness system Sternum strap, hip belt and padded lumbar support Internal pre-contoured aluminium frame Zip-away harness cover protects the back system in transit Zippered shoe compartment with internal drawcord divider Concealable rain cover Lockable zip housings
