Details

If your set up needs to be compact and lightweight without foregoing output the 160W Lightweight Portable Solar Blanket with Crocskin from Korr Lighting will have you covered. This unit has an output 8.89A per hour, with a size that's only 53cm x 40cm when folded - so it's ideal if weight is an issue with your set up. Featuring A-grade monocrystalline cells with a solid copper cell backing, they're also coated with Crocskin armour for durability. This mat is made from 1680D canvas, which is double the strength of other units in its category. Despite the lighter design, this mat has been constructed to withstand the rigours of touring in harsh environments. Also included is a 5-stage digital PWM controller, an Anderson plug and all the necessary cables you could need for use. Power your gear while away from the grid with rugged yet light 160W Lightweight Portable Solar Blanket with Crocskin from Korr Lighting.
