Suunto has teamed up with Google™ and Qualcomm® Snapdragon™ to create the Suunto 7 - a smartwatch that brings the tech we use during our busy urban workdays together with the durability and functional demands of adventure... It's a smartwatch that seamlessly combines sports with life. The Suunto 7 offers over 70 sports modes including running, swimming and cycling along with GPS tracking, barometer and heart rate monitor as well as all the features you'd expect in a smartwatch including WiFi connectivity, Google Fit™, Google Assistant, Google Pay™ and Google Play™. All of these features are wrapped up in a reinforced polyamide case with a stainless steel bezel and scratch-resistant Gorilla® Glass over a high-resolution AMOLED touch display. The Suunto 7 has been extensively tested in Finland to be shock, water and dirt resistant and works in rain, mud or snow. You can download free offline outdoor maps with heat mapping that shows popular trails, listen to music from your phone, connect to popular apps such as Strava and Nike, view messages and incoming calls, check emails and make easy payments all from your wrist. Battery life hasn't been left unchecked with a 450mAh Lithium Polymer battery that gives up to 40 days of use on traditional watch mode, 2 days on full smartwatch use, 12 hours in full GPS sports mode or up to 8 hours of music, and it takes just 100 minutes to fully charge. The Suunto 7 is the perfect smartwatch for people who love and use technology for their workday and escape the hustle and bustle but hitting the trails, pool or track by evening or on the weekends. By combining smartwatch convenience with outdoor watch functionality and durability Suunto has truly created a smartwatch that combines sport and life. Outstanding battery life for a smartwatch.
